

Good afternoon,

I recently became aware of Proposed Rulemaking, Pennsylvania Regulation 6571 (37 PA Code Ch 301) (IRRC #3373).

I am an employee of Copart Auto Auctions, and I believe that passing this legislation would greatly harm my company. By making it mandatory to inspect salvage vehicles (which is about 90% of our inventory), before being sold and titled, we not only would have to bring in more employment and remove some, but our buyers of many years may not want to go through the possibility of added fees in regards to this. I feel that we would loose a lot of our beloved customers and many would lose their jobs to be able to bring in those to inspect all these vehicles. Our salvage vehicles are in and out non-stop, many a day, and by requiring inspection, I truly feel that this would be a rough move for my company. Please reconsider.

I suggest that this proposed legislation be changed so that any business licensed as an auction pursuant to Pennsylvania Law---63 P.S. § 818.303 whose primary business is the auction of vehicles on behalf of third parties shall not be subject to this certified inspection requirement. An amendment to the legislation could go something like this:

(5.1)(iii) Any business licensed as an auction pursuant to 63 P.S. § 818.303 whose primary business is the auction of vehicles on behalf of third parties shall not be subject to this certified inspection requirement.

Thank you,

Kayla Denne
