REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

Today's warm weather has the manure hauler crowd calling me....

here is some issues they hope we can address that I haven't heard:

1. There are situations where several farmers go together and buy a "community" manure spreader. They haul all on their own or controlled land. they don't feel they should be considered brokers or haulers. there is no $ changing hands, just the manure spreader
2. farmer told me there is no liquid manure "brokered" in pa, so we should make sure regs reflect that. he thinks manure hauler regs should be rewritten to reflect different species type manure
3. #'s on trucks--concern is some trucks may not need number, then state or local police pull manure truck over and say "where is your number" and it is big hassle for farmer to get police to believe he doesn't need #

Coming to the meeting tomorrow:

farm bureau, pennag, grange, country view family farms and wenger's feed mill and ag coalition
