January 8, 2007

Dear Mr. J... I have a little girl. I have been fortunate about my time I was a little girl. I have always had a big part of my life. I certainly will have my own. I let my children do what they want to do. I let them do what they want to do. I let them do what they want to do.

The proposed amendments to the RA and the Regulatory Review Commission on January 10, 2007. One of the main things I am concerned about is the "input" in our current regulatory process. I have had some interesting feedback, many of the proposed regulatory changes are very disturbing to me as a dog owner. They are excessive and costly. Speed that process of this marketplace will save many people from a full-blown and expensive lawsuit for the well-learned and care of their pets to demonstrate how if these amendments are passed.

These sections have one major well intentioned one others. These amendments will not be average ~~any~~ busy.
Sincerely, ~~John~~ Frank
