Dear Ms. Bender,

I am writing to comment on the proposed new dog laws that are slated to pass if approved. I have not heard about this before, but now that it has come to my attention I must say that I am upset that something like this can happen with so few people knowing about it.

There seems to be many areas in these 68 pages of changes that are truly bad for the responsible breeders and reputable small boarding kennels and probably won't even have that much affect on the operations and conditions of the big commercial puppy mills in PA.

Therefore, I must agree with the few people I have spoken with, that better enforcement of the existing laws would seem to make a lot more sense than introducing more laws, and many of them seeming very hard to actually enforce. Please reconsider putting this new laws into effect.

Sincerely,

Pat Lutz
