

2/2007

To Whom It May Concern -

I am writing to you regarding proposed changes to the Pennsylvania Dog Law. I am very concerned that, while the intent of change, is to curtail PA 'Puppy Mills', the changes seem to have gone too far and will end up having a negative impact on all of us who love and care for dogs. I have worked as a volunteer in a local rescue group, have lovingly lived with and responsibly raised dogs in my family as family members. I want to see an end to puppy mills, but I do not want to see these laws negatively impact responsible breeders that are out there. Simply enforce the laws that exist today - Keep after the puppy mills, don't turn the other way. Don't go too far the other way - laws must make sense. We need regulated, responsible breeders, but what I'm reading in these proposed changes eliminates the good ones out there. Thank you.

Paul Emmett,

INDEPENDENT REGULATORY PENNSYLVANIA

2007 FEB 12 PM 2:06

RECEIVED