

2559

3/8/07

Dept. of Agriculture
Bureau of Dog Law Enforcement

To Whom it may concern;
I do hope you read this.

Where has Bob-Yarnall & Ken Brandt's "heads" been buried?

They said that customers across the country told them "Pa. puppies are the healthiest in U.S. is that ever a joke!!"

I'd like to know how much money
these people are getting for siding with these puppy mill breeders!

They certainly aren't aware of what really is going on. Have these two individuals actually looked at the condition of these breeders?
(Don't mean just a select few.) I doubt it very much!

Mr. Brandt made the remark in the newspaper that the "Amish couldn't afford to pay their mortgages unless they raised dogs." This is down right

RECEIVED

2007 MAR 16 PM 1:36

INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVENUE COMMISSION

ridiculous. They have more money than what the "English" know about. I know it is a fact.

If these people want to raise puppies, let them treat them better than what they're doing.

Kennels are to have a place for the dogs to run & go into some kind of a building or shelter - not put in wire cages to walk on all the time & cut their feet & in over crowded conditions. I'm not against anyone raising dogs if they do it the right way, and abide by the rules & regulations.

They only think of the "cash" they make. Let them use some of their "thousands" of dollars they make & do some changes in their kennels (if that's what you want to call them)

We had a puppy mill dog (our son bought it for us) and we spent Thousands on her in medical bills during her life. We know where she was purchased!

It's long overdue to get better laws stopping the cruelty that is going on.

Another thing, who are these 300 members that are "professional Pet Breeders" that these 2 (Yarnall + Brandt) talked about? I bet most are Amish + other money hungry people not fit to have a dog license.

Shut down all these pet stores who sell puppies + that will be a big step in the right direction.

Also if these kennel breeders get arrested once for cruelty - the next time take their license away for good. Second offense your done - that would wake them up!!!

I hope I'm not writing

4.

us in name. I hope someone will read this & understand.
I hope these new laws will go into effect. (its a start)
I for one will be watching the developing story.
Remember, we as humans need to respect these poor defenseless dogs. They are one of Gods creatures & deserve this from us!

Thank you for your time.
Yours truly,
Dawn P. Roby
Lancaster, Pa.