^^

I am a truck driver and its this simple go ahead and make the law. But just remember to get me to abide by it you got to prove to me that you go home and turn your thermostat off at your home. And allow me to stop by anytime to check and make sure to see and check your energy bills to make sure you are doing the same. And we all know that thats not going to happen. so remember that truck is our home just like your home. and it"s just that simple.
