INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

I recently read about the state education department consideration of having seniors pass a battery of tests in order to graduate and receive a diploma. As a tax paying citizen I support that concept. I believe it would help the self esteem of 'competent' graduates and distinguish them from those who don't work up to graduation standards.

I would suggest, that the procedure be reviewed after 15 years once the procedure is in place. Raymond Ostrowski Middletown Twp.
