INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

Once more we focus on tests to determine whether or not a student is learning. We will narrow the curriculum once again to be single minded to the needs of a test, rather than the total child. Where in these tests do we test creativity, collaboration and problem solving skills? These are skills that businesses in the commonwealth are looking for. The do not want professional test takers.

Please do not implement more, one size fits all tests.

Thank you for your consideration.
