Dear Mr. Buckheit:

INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

Please be advised that my wife and I strongly oppose GCAs. Graduate Competency Assessments would only further lengthen the Dark Ages of Education. We need to change the course, and go back to what made our educational system so great. If we continue to add test after test, we will no longer be the most creative nation on Earth. Instead, we will end up like robots; unable to think for ourselves. Yes, Singapores math scores blow us through the roof, but the next Google, Microsoft, Apple, etc. will be American, unless we continue down this reckless road.

Sincerely,

Shane and Scott Morgan
