INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

I am opposed to GCA. We have tested our students to death.
As a result of PSSA's our students are so stressed that they shut down after those tests. When do we, as educators, have time to teach because the testing is our major concerns.
Each school should have the opportunity to assess if a student is proficient to achieve a HS diploma.
Put the state money into keeping class sizes small, getting discipline back in the schools, and providing assistance for the average(C) student.
If we can do this and get control back in the schools
there will be more successful HS graduates.
