OF EDUCATION

Hello, Im just letting you know that I DO NOT AGREE with this stupid graduation exam. Although I am not a high school student anymore, i am a resident of PA and go to a state university. The reason i dont agree with this is because It is unfair to those students that either have a learning disability or is autistic etc... While taking the PSSA's there were a lot of things on there that I never took while in High school. I took Algebra 1 but barely passed because i did not understand it, plus I it is useless information and of course it makes no sense and it still doesnt. So basically not everyone will know Algebra or all that fancy stupid math Sincerely, Kris Pfitzenmeyer
