To Whom It May Concern:

As a middle school reading specialist in the Marple Newtown School Dist., I must register my objection to yet another high stakes test being required of our students. More than enough instructional time is already being robbed of our students to prepare for and administer the PSSA. The schools and government have enough information regarding our students' achievement. Please allow us to get on with the task of educating our students, and stop adding more layers of assessment.

Sincerely,

Andrea G. Fiorentino, M.Ed.
