The Pennsylvania Chiropractic Association having read the final regulation Regulation ~~16A-4317~~ as posted on the IRRC's website

<http://www.irrc.state.pa.us/Regulations/RegInfo.cfm?IRRCNo=2746>

understands the regulation implies that a Doctor of Chiropractic must be licensed in The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to perform needle acupuncture. Furthermore, as long as s Doctor of Chiropractic is licensed under the Pennsylvania Medical or Pennsylvania Osteopathic Board they will be authorized to perform needle acupuncture.

The Pennsylvania Chiropractic Association is in support of this Regulation,
