To whom it may concern,

My family has been enjoying the benefits of raw milk purchase from a local farmer. We have been very impressed with the consist quality, taste and cleanliness if his product. The price has also benefitted our family of 6 since we have been unemployed for 19 months.

My concern with the proposed regulations is that farmers wouldn't be able to justify the increased cost to their operation and we as raw milk consumers would lose our suppliers. We would sorely miss the nutritional benefits if using raw milk.

I believe as informed and selective consumers we benefit from less regulation.

Sincerely,
Nicole Ferrari
