To the IRRC:

As a resident of Pennsylvania, I want to voice my concerns and displeasure regarding the proposed proliferation of regulations directed at raw milk producers here in PA.

In your supposed attempts to "protect the consumer" you are potentially killing an important part of our agricultural industry. As a milk consumer, I want the choice to be able to bottle up and purchase raw milk without the proposed bottling regs, extra rooms in the milk operation, etc., and the extra testing is crazy. Stop trying to protect us so much and allow us --both the producers and buyers of raw milk--to have our choices and freedom.

You are totally overstepping your bounds as a government entity. We were a free people but you, as the PDA, are seeing yourselves as the all-wise nanny state. Let us all alone to chose the food we eat.

So--reject the proposed final draft of raw milk regulations.
