Dear IRRC and PDA

I married into a Pennsylvania family farm in 1977. Although we are no longer a dairy farm, we continue to milk one cow. My family and anyone who visits us has the choice to consume raw milk. That choice should be available to anyone, and the consumer should be responsible for doing the research, checking out the farm procedures if they are interested in having access to raw milk, and asking pertinent questions. With all due respect for the time and energy already invested into these regulations, I urge you not to pass proposed regulation #2777 Department of Agriculture 2-160: Milk Sanitation.
