Greetings

As a consumer of raw milk products (the only form of dairy I can tolerate), I am urging that the Independent Regulatory Review Commission vote against adoption of proposed regulation #2777 Department of Agriculture 2-160. I am grateful that my state has made raw dairy products available to consumers; however, some of the proposed requirements regarding bottling of milk and the need to create additional rooms as well as do additional testing could very well jeopardize the raw milk production of farmers with small operations. I understand that the PDA did not provide adequate time for those affected to study and discuss the proposed changes. I trust that the IRRC will vote against the adoption of these proposed new regulations with the hope that continued communication between the parties concerned will result in creating policies that we all can live with.

Thank you for your service to Pennsylvania citizens.

Sincerely,
