

Shomper, Kris

2777

From: Ivette Bahamundi [ibahamundi@msn.com]
Sent: Tuesday, October 05, 2010 12:57 AM
To: IRRRC; ibahamundi@msn.com
Subject: PLEASE REJECT REGULATION #2777 : (

I Wanda Bahamundi am a raw milk consumer, i am requesting that all parties involved reject proposed regulation #2777 Department of Agriculture 2-160: Milk Sanitation. I do not need protection from my farmer, it is i who freely decide whether or not a certain food may or may not be safe for me, just like when i decide to buy processed foods with bad for your health ingredients. Raw milk is my native food, i was raised drinking it on my grandfathers back yard. With his own hands he would milk the only cow he had and give the milk to my grandmother to serve the family. I now have three children all under three who drink this dynamic food, none who have ever been sick " thank God" and its a fact its the way we eat. I am a successful business woman of sound mind, have done tremendous research on our food source and know that if my farmer provides an unsatisfactory product or fail to correct a problem it will be not only my or the farmers problem but everyone else who the farmer deals with. Every consumer polices its supplier with every transaction and has direct enforcement options.

The democracy that i was promised in america is very thin, our freedom of speech is on its limbs, i am a law obeying citizen born in the USA who is involved in many of todays issues. For as much democracy as america has promised me each time i see it all being taken away, my food is my survival, it is the last thing i would have thought the government would want control of, the food that keeps my heart beating in good health, the food that makes it possible for me to think straight, i love that i can buy food direct from farmers without third parties involved, it is safer that way, my family and i are one to prove it, my medical records are one to prove it. This regulation is unnecessary, there are bigger issues in the world today, however there should be stricter regulations on pasteurized milk, its a shame how corporations are able to get away with putting more and more bad for your health ingredients and adults and children alike drink this liquid, it makes me so mad when children get sick from the less ideal drink of pasteurized milk or other less ideal foods and yet these companies still stay in business. We teach our children to try something new before knocking it down, or keep trying never give up, i invite those who try to take away our God given foods that are closest to nature and try them.

These foods are very important to me for my children's health is at stake here, in my opinion you have to see it to believe it, please reject this unnecessary regulation for my children's human right to eat and drink there native foods in the America that promised us democracy.

Sincerely

Wanda Bahamundi