Subject: Loophole in Regulations for Commercial Kennels

Message:

I understand that The Department of Agriculture has issued new regulations for commercial kennels which contain a loophole under which birthing and nursing mothers may be kept in enclosures which have 50% wire flooring. Wire is uncomfortable as well as dangerous and should not be in enclosures at all. Pennsylvania's new Dog Law clearly states that dogs over 12 weeks of age are NOT to be kept on wire flooring. NO dogs, including mother dogs, should be on wire floors. Please correct this loophole. Thank you.
