Subject: Dog Law concerns

Dear Rendell Administration Members,

Like many other Pennsylvanians I am outraged to learn of the "exceptions" being made in the regulation of commercial dog breeding facilities (better known as puppy mills). It is saddening to see how incompetent the state of Pennsylvania is at enforcing laws and scary to see how interested government officials, notably Sue West, are in sponsoring the inhumane treatment of already exploited animals.

I am referring to the exceptions being made to Act 119 which would allow breeders to house animals on 50% wire flooring though the Act states full solid floor is required.

I am not looking for an explanation or an excuse, simply an end to the backwards workings of Pennsylvania Law. But I know I will receive a reply email filled with false excuses meant to protect our weak government rather than the most helpless of Pennsylvania's citizens.

So send me excuses, I look forward to destroying them!

Insincerely,

Sara Klementovic
