I am a normal common citizen who loves animals and am sick and tired of individuals that run puppy mills and that there are laws that seem to protect them and NOT our fuzzy little innocent dogs and puppies that have no voice or say and have found themselves in the most unfortunate living conditions. It just breaks my heart that the so called breeders have any rights at all. They should all be closed down and not allowed to breed anymore dogs. Governor Rendell administration is supporting the illegal actions of PA Dept of Agriculture. The new law clearly states that in commercial kennels, they can no longer house dogs and puppies in cages with wire flooring and that the animals will have access to outside exercise runs. He signed this very law in 2008 and now is turning his back on the PA Puppy Mill Dogs. This is an outrage. The very people that are voted in by the common people and work for them, are refusing to do the job they are supposed to be doing. What a mess.

There should be no compromise or discussion about this. None. Reputable breeders don't treat their animals in the same manner as puppy mills do. I doubt they would have 500 breeding dogs on their premises. That's not breeding, that's a production line. All puppy mills should be condemned and forced to close. What a horrible life those poor dogs live. How can they even get up in the morning to face yet another horrible, painful day. Please stop the madness. These animals have no voices, we are their voices. No more wire cage floors to start with, give them sometime outside for exercise and give them a reason to live at least a little bit.
