REFERENCE: Wood Boilers

I am planning on building a wheel chair compatible home very soon. It would be on 4 ½ acres of land. I plan on solar electric and heat from a wood boiler as I have an unlimited supply of firewood.

However, where the new house would go, the boiler would be within 50 feet of my line but there is nothing but woods on the other side. The house beyond that is a long ways away.

If a person is not going to put a boiler next to his neighbors house, then there should be exemptions to any new laws.

Sincerely,
