

From: Ernest Grolimund [egrolimund@msn.com]
Sent: Tuesday, February 09, 2010 10:52 AM
To: EP, RegComments
Subject: owb comments

Outdoor woodboilers violate pm stds tremendously on ave and therefor are illegal and dangerous. 42 mcg/m<sup>3</sup> is created at 500 ft in calm winds acc to Dr Brown, phd whose report can be googled at Risk Assessment of Outdoor Wood Boilers. The corresponding pm at about 50' is about 70 mcg/m<sup>3</sup> by graphing. 2,000 mcg/m<sup>3</sup> has been monitored by NESCAUM for 3 min time periods when the auto damper is closed, and this can cause heart attacks and sthma attacks within minutes by Habers rule of toxicology. Dr Brown says 30 mcg/m<sup>3</sup> of pm<sub>2.5</sub> for 3-4 hrs can cause heart attacks.

The equiment is therefor dangerous and should be banned like Washington State did. Noboby will want to do this but it is neccesary. Owb's are lemons. Owners have been a victim of fraud and false advertising by companies. The Atty Gen must be consulted. The health system and toxicologist must be consulted. There are some things beyond the vicissitudes of politicians according to a judge from Corpus Juris Secundem, and this is one of those things. You cannot kill, hurt, harm, poisen or even bother your neighbor. This derives from the Golden Rule incorporated into the US and state constitutions in varous ways and health nuisance laws and the like. Noxious fumes laws are broken too.