

2802

From: james king [kingof@windstream.net]
Sent: Thursday, February 04, 2010 7:48 PM
To: EP, RegComments
Subject: otsdie wood furnaces

There is definitely a need for regulations on outside wood furnaces.

There should be a ban on burning them May 1 to October 1.

Not only for new installations but for existing ones. I know of several people that can't be outside because of the stench. There should also be a setback regulation of 300 ft from any residence not being served by the unit. The proposed 150 ft from the nearest property line is not far enough in the event that someone's house is near the line.

Not only would it be a nuisance, but it would depreciate the value of neighboring properties.