RE: wood boilers

Dear Sir:

I understand that the PA DEP is considering making new wood boilers more efficient. According to PennFuture, older wood boilers currently produce as much diesel soot as four heavy-duty diesel trucks. This information is quite extraordinary.

Living in a region, the Mon River Valley, which is distinguished by the highest levels of fine particulate pollution in the nation, I strongly support any and every tact which will bring about improved air quality.

Please support this initiative.

Yours truly,

Fran Harkins
