Subject: wood fired boilers

INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

I would like to voice my opinion regarding wood fired boilers in the state of Pennsylvania.

I believe that it is wrong for the State to set regulations regarding residential use of "wood burners."

Local jurisdictions may need to monitor the use of "wood burners" on an individual, case by case basis, and make decisions regarding installation. Pre-installation permits may be all that is needed, and then only in close residential neighborhoods.
