INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

I am opposed to the state regulating the use of outdoor wood boilers for home heating.

The problems associated with the use of such heating devices should be left to local governments to deal with; not the state. The problems that may arise from the use of wood boilers do not affect everyone. We live in a rural area and there are people using wood boilers in our area. We are not affected by them and see no need to have the state dictate how they can be used here.

Leave it up to local government to deal with problems that may arise if needed.
