Subject: Outside Wood Stove

INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

My husband and I are against any regulations on outside wood stoves. We can't believe such a thing is being considered. It is very hard work to cut wood and burn it, why should people be punished for it? The lawmakers appear to be out to get the average hardworking individual. The government appears to want to control every move we make and take everything from the honest hard working man. Perhaps when everyone goes on welfare there will be no one to take from any more then what will happen?
