INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

I would like to comment on the attempt of the Environmental Quality Board to regulate the wood fired boilers that people are using to heat their homes in Pa. Local governments are regulating the industry and do not need state people meddling where they are not needed. It will only add costs, time, and aggravation to providing heat in the homes. Most of the wood fired boilers are undertaken by young people who are able to get the wood themselves. The wood is there for the asking as our lands are full of fallen trees. People who use this system to heat homes and/or businesses just don't have any more money available for other options or for government policing.
