

RECEIVED

DEC 23 REC'D

2802 rec'd by 12/17/09

INDEPENDENT REGULATORY REVIEW COMMISSION

RECEIVED

DEC 10 2009

ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY BOARD

My comments to you Environmental Quality Protection Agency Board People is as follow I believe that wood burning boilers should be permitted out here in the country where good clean, dry ^{wood} is plentiful and the smoke doesn't travel far enough to bother the neighbors, especially us elderly citizens on fixed incomes "social security checks" after medicare and ~~our~~ health insurance^{is} deducted from within

I think personally that if you "Gov" or politicians in general want to take away our wood heat, I think you should take away diesel engines trucks, tractors, pickups and automobiles and lawn mowers also Jet Planes leaving streaks of exhaust fumes across our beautiful blue skies and last but not least nuclear power plants like 3 mile island that we all know it has had what they called a melt down or shut down that didn't but very well could have killed a good many of us Pennsylvanians who respectfully voted you people into your present position

Another thing on my mind is what is the difference between burning wood in outside Furnaces and nothing is mentioned about burning wood inside houses, garages, workshops and other out buildings

Fire View stoves, Furnaces, Space heaters, Cookstoves Ect. Ect. Ect, and no matter what fuel is used Fuel oil, kerosene, Propane gas, wood they all put Palutent's out of their Chimneys and in my opinion.

The worst thing I can think of is Kerosene heaters in houses with no vent pipes or Chimneys

Now if you want to know the reason why people like myself put in or installed outside boilers or furnaces is first of all the High prices that we pay out of our "soc. security checks" for Fuel oil, kerosene, Propane, Coal and any other Fuels they think of that to empty my wallet or my wife's purse like wood pellets, fire bricks Ect. Ect. Ect. Now we burned Fuel oil and kerosene to heat our house for years and we had a Budget Plan with an oil and Propane company what is "....."

witch included cleaning and servicing our Furnace, we insedently ran out of fuel so we called and told them, they said they didn't have a truck in the area so we would be charged $75.00 extra plus they couldn't deliver 24 to 48 hours later for them to come and fill our tank and by the way everytime a truck fills peoples tanks their trucks set in drive way witch is close by our house's with Engines running at fast idle while pumping the fuel in our tanks and

By the way what kind of fuel do you people heat your homes with to keep your hands and other body parts warm.

Thank you from a Country Tax Payer

Lloyd

Lloyd Dunbar
RR 2 Box 224B
Columbia Cross Rds, PA 16914

570-596-4550