To Whom It May Concern:

I don't have time to go through the entire proposed changes, so I might be wrong when commenting on this issue. Nonetheless, a jump from 6 hours to 24 hours in a one year period is a bit much. I understand the theory behind on-going annual training; however, in practice it typically ends up being a complete waste of time and something that merely is a money maker for the training facilities and classes. Participants learn very little. Asking for a jump from 6 hours to 24 hours will raise the cost of day care and further tax employees. I object to the drastic of an increase.

Thanks for your time,

Jeffrey T. Vitale
