I just read the new list of requirements for daycares. My only concern is with the amount of paperwork we have to do now, where are we suppose to find time to do more training, classes and paperwork? There are enough online creditable classes now and weekend classes for us to take, and u want more hours a year....

I am a family daycare and just dont have the extra time for anymore. I have children from 5:30 am till 8pm daily and every other weekend from 5 am - 3 pm. And there are alot more out there like me who just don't have the spare time to do anymore. You all keep putting more and more on us and we end up paying for more and more classes and requirements. When it is gonna end.

thank you for listening to my concerns.
