Subject: re regulations

Dear Sirs--I do not think there is any question that the most stringent regulations should be placed on any & all drillers of oil & gas. The safety of our water supply is extremely important--once ruined, it cannot be revived in our life time. Please be sure to check all possible problems to make sure that something isn't overlooked. The oil disaster in the Gulf is a reminder of how delicate our ecosystem is and we should take note of it and prepare for any contingency. Thank you for your consideration
