To the Environmental Quality Board:

It is my sincere hope the Environmental Quality Board will approve new well-construction regulations (25 Pa Code Ch. 78) that require gas drilling operators to build safer wells and disclose the chemicals used in the gas extraction (fracking) process. The regulations would also require the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection to perform more rigorous inspections of these wells for everyone's health and safety.

The current state of affairs is completely untenable, and threatens the entire Delaware River watershed among other areas.

Sincerely,
