NONCOM MINING FEES

In times of bad economics in this country, you would think the governments of this country would make it easier on the "HARD WORKING AMERICANS" but all you see is greed! For every time you squeeze with higher cost, that's one more person that wants to give up. Just think of all the money that just one person generates to the economy, but you can't see that.

Over time you discourage the hard working people in the stone business. What would you do for a living?

With fees you are proposing I call it legal thieves.

I own the land and quarry it on, I have payed taxes on it all my life. Now every year I will need to pay a higher fee. That's what I call destroying Americans ability to want to work.

I might better go before this board and say "shoot me" with your fees you're killing me anyway.
