

RECEIVED
IRRC

2950

2012 JUL 10 AM 11: 28

Inq. 2881387 9-1-11
Docket # L-2009-2107155

Aug 4, 2011

I've read about the proposed "new regulations" of gas meters. I've only lived in Bethlehem for 2 1/2 yrs.
but I've already come to appreciate the wonderful historic neighborhoods and their importance. Please preserve the beauty and uniqueness of these areas by giving them the exemptions they should most definitely have.
Thanks for your consideration!

June Robinson

Pennsylvania PUC

Mrs. June Robinson
701 Main St., Apt. 307
Bethlehem, PA 18018

AUG 09 2011

Consumer Services
CAC Division

SECRET
U.S. BUREAU

2011 SEP -1 PM 3: 01

RECEIVED

11-1-88 7881888 . part
2815015-8005-1 11: 10:06

LVA considers offers for its land

Bowing under the weight of a $16 million court debt, the Lehigh-Northampton Airport Authority has decided to begin fielding offers for some of its land. A real estate committee the authority created Tuesday will review any offers that can help the Lehigh Valley International Airport raise enough money to pay its massive court debt.

What's next? The authority will listen to offers from developers for airport property.

Historic districts may be spared gas meters

The state utility commission on Thursday proposed new regulations that would relocate most boxy gas meters and their tentacle-like pipes from the basement to home fronts. But with a nod to the residents of historic neighborhoods, which have said the meter relocation would blight their homes, the Public Utility Commission said utilities could exempt those neighborhoods in the interest of preservation.

What's next? Residents can comment on the proposal by writing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; Attn: Secretary, P.O. Box 3265, Harrisburg, PA 17105-3265.