Message:

A one size fits all does not work. I can tell you that kids are getting lost currently with the new common core esp. in math. Common core is causing a rift between the parent and schools. NO Child left behind was a total failure. Common core is NCLB on steroids and does not work. It is failing in NY and Kentucky. Many states are pulling out of it. Lets get to the bottom of this. Bill Gates wants to control the world. Well, maybe the world doesn't need to be controlled. Any man such as bill gates who calls himself God should be questioned on his actions. He wants to promote common core to bring us down to the rest of the world. Plain and simple. He is a man who made his money on capitalism but has changed his American ways and wants a global rule. Listen it looks good on paper but it doesn't work. He is suppose to be about diversity and he is not doing that. He wants to decrease the population with his untested vaccines. Do you believe that vaccines should go untested? even by him? What makes him so special? NOthing he just has a lot of money. And good people cannot be bought. He is testing a common core curriculum that has never been tested. Once again, you have to ask yourself who does this man think he is. NO one will ever control the world so why bother trying. Common core is telling our kids that the govt is family. No it is not. I do not recall the govt being there when so m any women gave birth to their child. Common core is going to destroy American education and it needs abolished. thankyou
