Subject: Stop Common Core

2013 OCT 24 PM 2: 48

To whom it may concern – I stand with those who want to stop the common core standards before the destroy the education system in Pennsylvania. My son has already been subjected to common core, as he entered Kindergarten this year. The curriculum and schoolwork is far too basic. He even said, he wanted to go back to preschool because he is bored and simply not learning anything. In his Kindergarten class this year, they have learned to count objects 1-10. My 3 year old can do that! In preschool, my son’s class was counting objects 1-25, halfway through the year. This is simply unacceptable to expect 5-6 year old children to do the work of a 3 year old. Differentiation is needed in the classroom and to even consider these common core standards even further is ridiculous.

A very concerned parent,
