Please, I'm begging all of you to stop Common Core. Not all students are the same and some are late bloomers. They ALL deserve to grow at their own pace. I know from personal experience. I'm dislexic and was told all my life that I was either not applying myself or not smart enough. Well, I've been a finalist in a national writing contest and have run two different business and done well. My son also has learning disabilities. He now runs his own business doing metal work for $40,000,000 dollar homes and building props for movie sets. What would have happened to him if Common Core dictated his life? He didn't discover his talents until after High School as did I. Common Core would have already decided what we would be doing with lives before we had the chance to discover what we were capable of and what we love. Don't take these choices and discoveries away from our children and grandchildren.
