Subject: Opposition to Common Core

Message:

I attended a teachers' workshop on Common Core in August, 2012. I had several strong objections to the program. The program is very "light" on American history (already a problem with our citizens) and also very light on literature. The math processes also seemed ridiculous to me. I've been teaching for 30 years and have seen many educational fads "come and go." This one should "go!"
