

Yohn, Cheryl

From: ContactForm@state.pa.us
Sent: Wednesday, October 09, 2013 6:08 PM
To: Help
Subject: IRRC Website - New Message

A new message has arrived from the IRRC Website

First Name: Francy

Last Name: Angelo

Company:

Email: bafala08@gmail.com

Subject: STop common core

Message:

Dear Gov.: It is a fact that the kids in all school districts here in PA are crying over the new math standard under the Common Core Standards. They don't get it. There was nothing wrong with the old math standards. NOW with Common core you and the federal government are inflicting intentional emotional distress on our kids. Common Core is unmandated and the cost for this infliction is not only emotional but our school district cannot afford Common Core. Common core is no child left behind on steroids. NCLB was a failure. Common core will dumb down our kids, and there will be an even higher drop out rate. What kid will want to go to school? I have to look for private schools that have not adopted common core. So now not only is my tax payer money being wasted on Common core I will have to pay more to send my child elsewhere to learn what the public schools will not teach anymore. Common core is a failure in New York and Kentucky and Texas and Florida and many other states have realized the detrimental implications this will have on our education system and kids. SAY no to common core. Parents have had enough esp. with the sexual reading material that promotes pedifilia and rape. My kindergartener does not need to be taught sex education. Common core is nothing but a way to have more govt intrusion in our lives and it needs to stop. You will lose good teachers. If you do not abolish Common core parents will sue the govt for intentional infliction of emotional and physical distress and the govt cannot afford a lawsuit. Parents will also file a class action lawsuit against Bill Gates and his foundation. So, to avoid expensive wasteful litigation I think it is important to note that it is better to just abolish this common core and c scope agenda. It has proven to be a failure, it upsets the kids and teachers, parents have every right to be involved in their kids education, it is expensive for taxpayers and school districts that are barely surviving, it is unlawful and no parent was warned about this new agenda. America is a wonderful country and we succeed because we recognize the uniqueness of all individuals. No individual should ever be treated the same. thanks for your time and attention.

2013 OCT 10 AM 8:08

RECEIVED
IRRC