Dear Mr Sumner,

My sister and I have been doing research for months on Common Core.

All the states across the country that have started to implement Common Core have learned what this is really about. I'm sure you have heard and have all the info-----some most disturbing.

Most taxpayers have no idea of what Common Core is about-----let alone the additional financial burden. The taxpayers have more than enough to handle.

Armstrong School District is now trying to find ways to help fund a new school.

The Leader Times has reported-----last year half of Armstrong School District's 12 schools did not make Adequate Yearly Progress. Too many past regulations and standards????? Too much federal influence in education with no credible testing on new standards???????

PA Core Standars are bad for Pennsylvania students and taxpayers. Please stop this unfunded and unfounded regulation.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Janet Isacco
