Message:

I do not believe more federal control of our schools will make them better. Furthermore, federal control will never adequately reflect the interests or needs of the individual communities. It would not be efficient and most likely would be expensive to implement. We have a great system of "public" schools and while not perfect the weight of responsibility should rest not on some fantasy of the government making it better. The public or people of the school communities needs to be properly made aware of such actions and have a voice in the decisions!!!
