Subject: ce credit asynchronous learning

2014 SEP -3 PM 2: 22

Warm hellos,

I am became aware the board is looking at changing asynchronous online continuing education where all are credits can't be learned this way like the MD's do. Why put another hoop for us to go through, I much rather go to a seminar but timing of seminars and locations since having a young family has been difficult and the online learning has been wonderful. I get more of out with being to read and concentrate for a few hours and come back to it later do another few hours instead cramming 12 hours at once. Please consider leaving well enough alone the way we receive our credits.
