To Whom it May Concern,

I am writing regarding proposed IRRC #3147 , the proposed changes to the school vaccination regulations (28 pa code 23.81-23.87 that will affect not only my child but thousands of other families in the state of Pennsylvania.

Regarding the reduced flexibility of a provisional admittance to school, it is completely unreasonable, and ignorant to think that a parent with a child who needs a vaccine for school admittance would be able to get an appointment, and receive said vaccine in a five (5) day period. In addition to this, there are dangers involved in receive too many vaccines too close together. I would rather keep my child home from school, than force my child to receive too many vaccines too close together.

Regarding the changes to the "documentation" of prior history of chickenpox, again your expectations are unreasonable and ignorant. Clearly none of you have children. If I called my childs pediatrician and asked for an appointment (just because I need documentation from a physician) to be seen, they would refuse to see my child. Not to mention the financial hardship of taking time off of work, and having to pay the office visit copay.

Sincerely,
Monica Hayse
