Being a Realtor in this State for the past 26 years, it's difficult to not respond to another fee being added in a real estate transaction. Taxes in this State are some of the highest in the Country and adding another one, even as small as $50 for radon mitigation is not acceptable. I wish that this fee would not be approved and taxes on such things would not be approved what so ever. It's just another fee charged so the State makes more money, we are taxed enough!
