

3207 Form Ltr. C 1-10

Kathy Cooper

From: Thomas Fiorini <Thomas.Fiorini.1428018@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 12:31 PM
To: IRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Thomas Fiorini
5000 Hanoverville Rd., Bethlehem, PA
Bethlehem, PA 18017
6108668001

3202

Kathy Cooper

From: Linda Perin <Linda.Perin.1428017@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 12:20 PM
To: IRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Linda Perin
1033 Blue Valley Drive, Pen Argyl, Pa.
Pen Argyl, PA 18072
6108637070

3202

Kathy Cooper

From: Chester AMICK <Chester.AMICK.1428016@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 12:18 PM
To: IRRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Chester AMICK
661 ROBINWOOD DR
Pittsburgh, PA 15216
4125805058

3707

Kathy Cooper

From: John Fanelli <John.Fanelli.1428030@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 1:54 PM
To: IRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

John Fanelli
202 Tower Road
Avonmore, PA 15618
7246974927

3207

Kathy Cooper

From: Kelly Mlynek <Kelly.Mlynek.1428029@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 1:23 PM
To: IRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Kelly Mlynek
185 Newberry Commons #268
Goldsboro, PA 17319
7179091958

3202

Kathy Cooper

From: Devin Plenert <Devin.Plenert.1428026@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 1:11 PM
To: IRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Devin Plenert
2000 Cambridge Drive
Davidsville, PA 15928
8142882724

3207

Kathy Cooper

From: philip reck <philip.reck.1428025@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 1:06 PM
To: IRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Phil Reck

Sincerely,

philip reck
54 s beaver street
York, PA 17401
7178734102

3202

Kathy Cooper

From: Julia Brulia <Julia.Brulia.1428024@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 12:55 PM
To: IRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Julia Brulia
16563 Lincoln Highway
Breezewood, PA 15533
8147357223

3202

Kathy Cooper

From: Aaron Smalley <Aaron.Smalley.1428022@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 12:53 PM
To: IRRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Aaron Smalley
2755 Kirila Road, Hermitage, PA 16148
Hermitage, PA 16148
8133282235

3202

Kathy Cooper

From: Carla McKinney <Carla.McKinney.1428019@muster.com>
Sent: Monday, July 02, 2018 12:46 PM
To: IRRRC
Subject: Regulation #12-106 Overtime eligibility rules

Dear Independent Regulatory Review Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on proposed regulations submitted by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry (L&I). These regulations are intended to update the rules that determine if an employee is required to be paid overtime.

Though this proposed regulation may be well-intended I am deeply concerned with the negative impacts on employers and many of the very employees whom the proposal is supposed to help.

L&I proposes to more than double the wage requirement to qualify for exempt status. This dramatic increase will force many employers to convert salaried employees to hourly status, which usually entails a far more rigid work schedule with less flexibility, burdensome record-keeping, fewer training opportunities and benefits. Hourly workers required to clock in and clock also risk less take-home pay if hours worked in a week dip below 40.

L&I also proposes changes to the so-called "duties test" which is used in conjunction with the salary threshold to determine exempt status. In the proposed regulation, L&I expressed a desire to align Pennsylvania's "duties test" with federal regulations. This would be a welcome change; unfortunately, the proposed rule falls short of the expressed goal.

The U.S. Department of Labor proposed a very similar regulation in 2015 and employers applauded the ruling to strike down the proposal by U.S. District Judge Amos Mazzant, who was nominated by President Obama to serve the Eastern District of Texas.

In addition, as a farmer, I am a price-taker. The increases proposed may put us out of business as I cannot adjust the price I receive for my product. Thank you in advance for saving agriculture in Pennsylvania!

The current U.S. Department of Labor is expected to propose a new rule and Pennsylvania should hold off pursuing its own overtime update at least until the new federal rule is proposed.

Thank you for considering my views on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Carla McKinney
PO Box 131
Toughkenamon, PA 19374
6102688306