To Whom it May Concern,

It has been brought to my attention about the possibility of increasing the fee for license renewal. If I am being completely honest this is completely absurd. Being a massage therapist is a job where one must complete continuing education courses, first aid and CPR and a lot of those courses are not the cheapest and as an LMT most of those expenses come of of our own pocket. Plus some LMTs are renting spaces and paying for their own supplies which is another large expense. So increasing the renewal fee to an expense like that could possibly put a fellow massage therapist out of a career they love. Please consider my opinion in this matter as your decision will affect a bunch of people like myself.

Sincerely,
Alyssa Tracy LMT
