I am responding to input on raising the fees for licensure and biennial renewal from $75 to $200. I would be disappointed and would have to make the decision to give up my license. I keep up my license and continuing education in case I return to massage therapy work. When I did Massage Therapy previously, it did not provide enough income to support me. It is and continues to be burdensome on massage therapists just to cover the increasing costs of continuing education, let alone increasing the fee to that extent.
